Jerri was my Brother-in-law's wife but to me she was my sister-in-law & friend. She was one of those people they as soon as you met her, you became her friend. She was always positive & ready with a joke to make you laugh. In recent years we lived 180 miles apart but would catch up on the phone & talk for an hour. She always had a listening ear to help with your problems. I am heartbroken that she is no longer with us but know she is singing with the angels.
