At first I thought it was a joke. How could Beebo be gone? In life she was an amazing individual who found time to be compassionate, caring, supportive and strong. Years past she saw hardships but pushed through to make it out the other side scratched but not broken. Michelle was there for others doing what she could to either save an animal's life or mine. Michelle's friend roster has to be one of the longest I've ever heard. Meeting people only once, she was able to leave a lasting impression thought to be magical. Underneath the brawler exterior and tough as nails attitude, Michelle was a piece of everything and everyone she came into contact with, always able to lend an ear and let you know when to let you know "uuh uuh, ain't nobody got time for that" and interject the appropriate commodity necessary to carry you through understanding what your part in it was, and if you couldn't change it, or couldn't live with it, then how you should leave the broken pieces where they lay and move the **** on down the road. Always finding a way to to show you how you deserved better. My grief will never subside as I am left with memories lasting almost a 30 year span of trials and tribulations she made worth it in some way or another by listening, winking, smiling and laughing if only to let you know it was all gonna be alright. I hope now Michelle can still let us all know that even in times of lose, grief and sorrow, days go by and everything will be alright. To her family my deepest condolences. To all those left, remember her smile, remember her love and take comfort in the opportunity shared by knowing her.

Linda and Lee,How can something like this happen? We remember Michelle as this bubbly, vivacious, funny, all around sweetheart who loved everyone especially little Mackenzie. Our hearts go out to you both and the rest of your family. May you find peace in the coming days and know that many share in your sorrow.
