Dear Merilyn, It is nearly impossible to describe how much we all love you and it's that much harder to explain how much you will be missed. You are such an amazing and strong woman and I wish I had spent more time with you. You always made me laugh even when no one else could make me smile. You always found a way to cheer me up without even trying. In your eyes I was always perfect, you were always on my side even when I was wrong. I will always remember when you would call and I would answer pretending to be a wrong number or some strange person, you fell for it every time. Its little moments like that I thought I was lifting your spirit but in all honesty you were lifting mine. Even though you are with the man up stairs now I know the times of laughter are not at end. I know I will always have my memories and little moments that will remind me of you and make me smile. You will be missed and surely ever forgotten. I Love You Chris

Momma, words could never express what you meant to me. You were always my rock, my support and my biggest hero. Through everything we have been through and that happened to you, you still made sure we were ok till the very end. I will miss your smile, your touch, your compassion, the way you could say the right words at the right time and the sole reason I found God. Your faith is an insperation to everyone because no matter what you were feeling or going through your faith was stronger each day you were alive. I know you are still here but just not in body. I will talk to you soon and see you later. Forever in my mind, forever in my heart, forever my dear wonderful, loving, beautiful Mommy! I love you so much and you will by missed deeply.

I've known you for 20 years now as your favorite son-in-law. I think that you have been the most forgiving person I've ever known. Your love was unconditional just the way it's supposed to be. A rare thing these days. But most importantly, you loved Jesus and it showed. I think you are one of God's favorites. RIP Marilyn. I will miss you. I love you. Thank you for loving me.
