Dear Maggie and Jean, I'm so sorry to hear of your husband's (father's) passing. Although we know this is part of life, we are never ready to lose someone so important to us. I'm praying for you both to have that "peace that passes all understanding". God bless you as you move ahead in the Lord's plan for each of you. Love in Christ, Joan (aerobics)

Maggie, I just read about Bill. I think about losing our loved ones as we all get older. It is so hard to know what to say, but just to let you know our thoughts and prayers are with them. I would have loved to be at the service to support you, but we just returned from San Antonio.

I raise a toast to Uncle Bill and thank him for giving me the only sailing experiences I ever had in my life. My memories of outings with him during family reunions are among my most treasured. He was always so calm and collected, even in the midst of one terrible thunderstorm that I - in my impressionable youth - will never forget. I know that my parents will greet him with loving arms on the other side. God bless to Maggie and all my cousins who must find the courage to continue on without him.

Vicki and I really enjoyed Bill's smiling face which lit the room every time we joined him at special events! He will be missed, but we know he is in a better place. We miss him and will always remember his SPIRIT!

I am heartsick. He colored my life in so many ways. Thank God he colored his children and grandchildren with so many fine attributes. The world is a dimmer place with our Bill gone. Love and peace. Bubbles
