During Christmas 2005 I traveled to Volgograd Russia to meet my wonderful woman which I was waiting for so long. Her name is Kate and she is the great woman and wonderful person, she is so intelligent and beautiful. Since I found her profile on LoveEpicentre website and sent her a short letter, everything in my life seems so fascinating. We had been emailing and talking to each other on the phone for five months before we met in person. After long period of conversations we did finally meet, and fall in love for each other. I am very thankful to Russia for a wonderful woman they have. I like this country and I love her. I am a type of man that interesting (or was interesting) in a one single woman at a time when I was looking for a serous relationship. Today when Media and Internet are very popular it gave us incredible services where you can do whatever you want, but most important before everything are online dating services. LoveEpicentre site is one of those priceless sources that provided the most qualified service for easy and comfortable communication to their clients. It happened. I and my best half girl are married now. I always thank god and <http://loveepicentre.com> internet dating site for a chance to meet such a wonderful woman like my girlfriend. Today, my second and better part of my life had begun. We both have found our true and clear crystal love. We don't have enough word to describe our lack and happiness we are having now. Since that day when LoveEpicentre.com had been established, everymen's dream is possible. LoveEpicentre.com – senior dating
